The Queen City will be down tonight from Pittsburgh.

The Avalon will attend to Pomeroy business tonight.

The Henry M. Stanley passed up for Pomeroy last night.

You may look for a rise in the river every month this year.

The Lazire Bay will be the packet from Pomeroy tonight.

The Keystone State was up last night for Pittsburgh with a nice trip.

The Speedwell will be down tonight for Cincinnati from Portsmouth.

The Sam Brown and Crusier passed up with tons of Pittsburgh empties.

It seems that all the coal that could be handled on the present rise was rushed South.

There is no more Pittsburgh coal loaded, it having all been gotten out on the last water.

The Volunteer is coming from Pittsburgh with a jaw of coal, wire nails and steel wire.

The Avalon had to refuse freight at this point the other day—she was blocked off when she arrived.

The Falls City took into Louisville the other day 90 hogheads of tobacco as one item of her very cargo.

Last week the river was too low at Pittsburgh; this week it was too high; no telling what it will be next week.

The big towboats Smoky City, Jim Wood, Nellie, Walter and Iron Age passed down with Pittsburgh coal for the South.

There is plenty of water for navigation, but the amount of freight being handled by the various packets is astonishing.

The work is progressing on the repairs being made to the big lock in the Monongahela river known as No. 2, and if nothing happens to retard the work boats will be locked through in about a week. The little lock is serving the river traffic. The river coal combine is assisting matters largely.

Captain James A. Henderson of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Line is busily engaged in looking passengers for the annual Mardi Gras Festival at New Orleans. Pittsburgh passengers will be carried to Cincinnati on local packets and transferred to the handsome steamer New South. This will be the first time this arrangement has been in vogue, and packet owners anticipate a large traffic on the rivers during the Festival.

The Pittsburgh towboat Joseph B. Williams passed down with the largest tow by far that was ever brought down the Ohio river, and she has orders to add a good-sized tow to it at Cincinnati and go to Louisville, and then to New Orleans. The Williams is said to have thirty coalboats in her tow, and if nothing happens to prevent, she will have forty coalboats and two barges from Cincinnati to Louisville. This is not only the greatest tow ever handled on the Upper Ohio, but is probably the largest tow ever handled by any steamerboat in the world. The Williams herself. Forty coalboats contain 1,000,000 bushels of coal, and a million bushels is equivalent to 25,000 tons. Figure out the trainloads, etc., yourself.

The Pittsburgh steamer Tom Rees, which passed this city Tuesday, had a tow of coal, in the middle of which were seven barges of steel rails. The John Moren is on her way down the river with seven barges of steel rails surrounded with coal barges, and another boat will leave Pittsburgh this week with a similar number of barges of steel rails protected in a similar way. Captain John Moren, General Manager of the Freight Department of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, said that when the Company has valuable cargo to ship the barges of steel rails will be surrounded in between coal barges in the middle of the tow, and there will be no more tows of steel rails exclusively. By handling the valuable freight in this manner it is expected that a great amount of money can be saved for if a tow hits the bank or a bridge pier or other obstruction, the chances of striking the valuable cargo will be greatly lessened if it is in the middle of the tow.

The discharge of Captain George W. Edgington for alleged violation of the navigation laws is no surprise to the hundreds of steamboat men who know and respect him. Captain Edgington was caught up on a technicality, and the boilers of the steamer Pearce are today, probably, far better than two-thirds of all the boilers on the river. The Pearce's boilers are absolutely new, but they were not made according to a new rule of the steamboat inspection service, the existence of which rule Captain Edgington was not aware of until after the boilers had been finished and used for some time. There are probably a good many boats which have punched rivet holes now in use on steamboats and they are passed every year by the Inspectors who condemn the Pearce's new boilers. Not that this is any reflection on the Inspectors, however, for they are simply carrying out their instructions, but it is pretty hard on Captain Edgington to be made the "terrible example" when he was entirely innocent of any wrong intentions. He will have the Pearce out again, however, in about four weeks, with a new set of boilers, and she will continue to run in the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade as an independent packet.

Persons who lead a life of exposure are subject to rheumatism, neuralgia and lameness will find a valuable remedy in Ballard's Snow Liniment; it will banish aches and relieve inflammation. Price 25 and 50 cents. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue will recommend the adoption of the resolution fixing the tax on leaf tobacco dealers at 12. The Commissioner finds that more revenue will result under that system of taxation than under the present system of taxing according to the amount of business transacted. There is a general demand among leaf tobacco dealers for the adoption of the resolution, as it does away with the keeping of itemized accounts, and in addition prevents the approximate business of the firm from being known to outsiders.

ARE ENCOURAGED

All England Rejoices Over the Victory Won By Gen. Buller at Spion Kop.

FURTHER NEWS IS CALMLY AWAITED.

An Exact Estimate of the Advantage Gained Can Not Be Made Just at This Time.

Gen. Woodgate, Who Was Wounded in the Attack, Has Since Died—Latest Dispatches From the Seat of War.

London, Jan. 25.—(By R. M.)—The war office announces that Gen. Warren has abandoned Spion Kop.

London, Jan. 25.—Admiral has been received from the Cape that Gen. Woodgate has succumbed to the wounds he received in the attack upon Spion Kop.

Gen. Buller's dispatch stating that he had succeeded in capturing Spion Kop and that "the men are splendid," thrills England with pride and confidence. His taking and holding Spion Kop are considered permanent advantages.

Sir Charles Warren's opinion that miles of the adjacent Boer entrenchment are untenable is accepted by most expert observers as obviously true, because of the height of the position, although some point out that if it may lack adequate gun platform to resist artillery fire from the two extended sides, it is not likely that Gen. Warren left anything he holds, and news of further success is calmly awaited.

The military authorities recognize, of course, that in the 12 or 15 miles between Spion Kop and Ladysmith there are continuous defensive positions and rugged hills and ravines which far outweigh Spion Kop, but they are sure that the troops who have turned the Boers out of difficult places can do it again.

The military expert of the times says: It is exceedingly difficult to arrive at any exact estimate of the advantage gained. A definite tactical objective has been attained, and definite steps have been taken in the fulfillment of the strategic plan. It is necessary to await further information before attaching undue weight to the success thus far attained. At least there has been steady progress.

The Kildonan Castle reached Durban Thursday with 2,000 additional troops for Gen. Buller, and three troops have arrived from India, bringing, among others, a regiment of lancers. Beyond this it is not known how heavily Gen. Buller has been reinforced, but those having certain connections with the war office are confident that Gen. Buller will have as many more men as he may need to make his work easier.

The situation in the neighborhood of the other armies is unchanged, but a forward movement by Gen. French is daily expected.

A dispatch to the Standard from Rensburg describes Gen. French's positions as now forming a great circle around the Boer positions. The correspondent says he could take Colenso, two miles away, at any time.

A letter from Pretoria gives the text of a complaint which President Kruger made to President Steyn regarding the want of cooperation on the part of the Free States at Modder river and President Steyn's address to the Free States. Mr. Kruger said he had learned with regret that "Only about 1,000 men of the Free State fought in the last battle and that many of those remained in their camps while their brothers resisted and even defeated their enemy."

These statements appear to give official confirmation to the reports of disagreements between the allies.

LADYSMITH IMPREGNABLE.

The Garrison is Watching Gen. Buller's Guns Shelling the Boers Near Spearman's Camp.

Ladysmith, Jan. 24.—(By R. M.)—The Garrison is watching Gen. Buller's guns shelling the Boers. Their fire can be seen at this distance and is very effective. The movements of the Boers show that they are evidently determined to stubbornly oppose the advance of the relief column. They show no signs of removing their guns, and have mounted new ones and are continually strengthening their fortifications. Our positions have been greatly strengthened since January 6, and Ladysmith is now practically impregnable.

Being in the dry weather the fever has diminished, and the number of convalescents returning from Intombi camp exceeds that of the patients being sent there. The supplies are spinning out splendidly, all the troops having sufficient wholesome food.

Macdonald Assumed Command. Modder River, Jan. 24.—Gen. Hector Archibald Macdonald has arrived and assumed command of the highlanders.

Was Not Murdered. Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.—Fred Clayton and Olson, the two men who were reported to have been murdered for robbery on the Yukon trail, are, at latest reports, among the camp-followers to a new strike on Big Salmon.

ARMED MEN AT FRANKFORT.

Mass Meeting Held and a Series of Resolutions Adopted to Be Presented to the Legislature.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 25.—The arrival here at 9 o'clock Thursday morning of from 800 to 1,000 men armed with rifles might have terrified a community less imbued with moral and sensational happenings, but by nightfall the excitement caused by the appearance of the warlike visitors had subsided and the people were prepared for another turn in the events now making history at the state's capital.

The train that bore the armed men was made up of 14 coaches. Apparently but few knew that it was expected. The men left the coaches in front of the L. & N. station and, forming into companies, marched to the state house, where their arms were deposited promiscuously and the men scattered about the building. Lunch was served to them at the rear of the house. Most of the visitors wore badges of white ribbon with a picture of Gov. Taylor. The men hailed from various sections of the state.

Shortly after their arrival the visitors gathered in front of the main state building, where several addresses were made and the following resolutions were adopted: "That, for the reasons for assembling at the state capital:

"We, Kentuckians here assembled in token of all the 'free and equal' men of Kentucky, do reassert 'the great and essential principles of liberty and free government' proclaimed in the bill of rights, not as derived to us therefrom, but as 'inherent'.

From ourselves we may alienate from ourselves and our children, but our liberty is a heritage in us in trust for all generations, and we may neither surrender nor encumber it. We declare against the usurpation of the right of 'freely communicating our thoughts and opinions' and to assemble together in a peaceable manner for the common good and the good of our fellow men of Kentucky. More especially do we declare our right and authority, conferred on us by Almighty power and not otherwise, of applying to those interested in the power of government, by either petition or remonstrance. And therein we represent to them, our brethren of Kentucky, our agents in legislature convened, that the government of Kentucky is founded on our authority and instituted for our peace, safety and happiness and the protection of property, our own and theirs, and, as well, that of the stranger within our gates.

"We petition them, our proxies in the general assembly, to heed that there is peril hovering over all those things so dear to us and to them, and that calmness and prudence and wisdom need be invoked in order that truth and justice may prevail; and we exercise our right of 'remonstrance' against those who have allowed themselves to be led into the temptations of partisan pride or party predilection in the crisis which is upon us. We beseech them to remember that in their own just powers were loaned them by us at the polls, and that among those was the jurisdiction to decide judicially and by due process of law and not otherwise what was then our expressed will, not their present political preference. We implore them that they do not on slight or technical pretext, nor flimsy, nor trivial causes hazard the subversion of that supreme law of the land, the will of the people.

"We beg of them that they receive from the hands of our messengers, and convey to the speaker of the house, their earnest address, petition and remonstrance, and they by their considerate action protect, preserve and promote the peace, safety and welfare, and, above all, the honor of Kentucky committed to their keeping."

The resolutions are to be presented to the legislature.

The men took their departure at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The consensus of opinion here is that the visitors mistook the day on which the contest boards were to make their report.

The men were an hour getting aboard their train and amused themselves during the delay by discharging their guns. The people of the city gave them a wide berth. They are expected to return when the contest ends.

PLAGUE IN HAWAII.

At Honolulu There Have Been Thirty-Eight Deaths, One of Them a White Woman.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 25.—A special to the Times from Honolulu, B. C., says: The steamer Mowena, just arrived, has news of 38 deaths at Honolulu from the plague, one a white woman of good class. The city is panic-stricken. Armed mobs prevent the landing of opium at Hilo. Cooper, of the board of health of Honolulu, had ten blocks burned. Dr. Carmichael has been ordered to leave. Thirty-four hundred Japanese at Honolulu are in quarantine.

Good Food Supplied the Army.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Acting Commissary Gen. Wilson has received a personal letter from Maj. George B. Davis, commissary of subsistence, attached to Gen. MacArthur's division in the Philippines in which he includes the most testimonial of the character of the food supplied to the army in the field.

Ex-Minister Phelps Slightly Better. New Haven, C., Jan. 25.—The condition of E. J. Phelps, the minister to England, has improved somewhat, though in a very slight degree.

HE WAS EXCLUDED

Brigham H. Roberts Shut Out of Congress By a Vote of 268 to 50.

THE SEAT DECLARED TO BE VACANT.

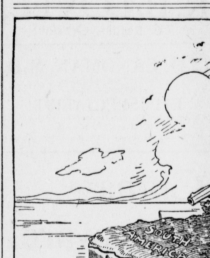

Mr. Roberts Left the Hall After the Result of the Last Vote Had Been Announced.

He Said He Would Not Attempt to Run for Congress Again, but His Conscience Was Clear of Doing Wrong.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The case of Brigham H. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah, which has occupied so much of the attention of the house since the assembling of congress, was decided by the adoption of a resolution to exclude him by a vote of 268 to 50.

The exact language of the resolution was as follows: "That, under the facts and circumstances of the case, Brigham H. Roberts, representative-elect from the state of Utah, ought not to have or hold a seat in the house of representatives, and that the seat to which he was elected is hereby declared vacant."

The amendment to expel Mr. Roberts without sending him, offered by Mr. Lacey, was ruled out on a point of order, and the house voted only on the resolution to exclude Mr. Roberts. The vote was 268 to 50. An analysis of this vote shows that 170 republicans, 72 democrats and 2 populists voted against it, and 71 democrats, 6 republicans, 2 populists and 2 silver republicans for it. The majority resolution to exclude Mr. Roberts and declare the seat vacant were adopted, 268 to 50. The affirmative vote was divided as follows: Republicans, 164; democrats, 90; populists, 4; and the negative vote: democrats, 47; silver republicans, 2; populists, 1.

There were over a score of speakers and the closing speeches on each side were particularly able. Mr. Latham, of Texas, closed for the majority, and Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, for the minority.

Mr. Roberts was present throughout the day and only left the hall after the result of the last vote had been announced. As he did so he gave out a statement justifying his retention of his plural wives on the ground that his moral obligation was more binding upon his conscience than technical obedience to statutory law, and saying that there was little excuse for the extraordinary efforts to crush a system already abandoned and practically dead.

"He said he was a martyr to a 'Spasm of prejudice.' He would not, he said, attempt to run for congress again, although he would go back home with a light heart, confident of the future."

ATTACKED BY TRIBESMEN.

A Battle in British West Africa in Which Eighty Tribesmen Were Killed By the British.

Lagos, Colony of Lagos, British West Africa, Jan. 25.—Admiral has just received here from Jebba that Capt. Carroll, of the Norfolk regiment, and 150 men of the West African frontier force, while erecting the telegraph construction staff, were attacked on January 9 by 2,000 Mithi and Basse tribesmen.

Capt. Eaton, of the East Kent regiment, and 12 others were wounded and one member of the escort was killed.

The tribesmen left 80 dead.

Jebba is probably northeast of Lagos, on the Niger, in which vicinity apparently the attack was made.

RACE QUESTION.

It Causes a Heated Colloquy in the Senate—The Urgent Deficiency Bill Passed.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Just at the close of the session of the senate a speech delivered by Mr. Money, of Mississippi, on the race question in the south precipitated a heated colloquy between him and Mr. Chandler (rep., N. H.) in which the latter alleged that the southern senators by intemperate statements were reopening the whole southern question in a senate after it was supposed to be dead.

The charge which Mr. Chandler particularly criticised was made by Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, who is absent at present; but as it had been reiterated substantially in Mr. Chandler's opinion by other senators, he declared he did not purpose to permit it to go unrefuted. The charge was that the civil war had been precipitated by designing politicians of the north for the purpose of putting the slaves on a political and social equality with the southern whites. Mr. Chandler's refutation of the statement was made with characteristic vehemence and aggressiveness, but as no reply was offered the incident ended there.

The urgent deficiency bill, carrying about $9,000,000, was passed with out division and practically without debate.

Department of Commerce. Washington, Jan. 25.—The question of establishing a department of the government to be known as the department of commerce, with a cabinet officer at its head, was discussed at considerable length by the senate committee on commerce. The discussion was based upon a very complete report on the subject prepared by Senator Nelson. The committee adjourned without taking action.

THE NEW COLOSSUS OF ROADS.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

The President Furnishes Information About That Representative From South Africa.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The president sent a response to the senate resolution requesting information concerning a representative of the South African Republic. He simply transmitted a report of Secretary Hay, who says that "in October last Gen. James H. O'Reilly, a distinguished citizen of New York, visited the department of state, intimating that he was the great representative of the South African Republic. He was courteously received and informed that it was not the practice of the department of state to recognize a citizen of the United States as the representative of a foreign power.

"No government and no representative of any government objected or protested against the official recognition by the government of the United States of Gen. O'Reilly or any one else as the representative of the South African Republic."

MISUNDERSTOOD ORDERS.

Trains Crash Together, Injuring Fifteen People, One Man Probably Fatally.

Waycross, Ga., Jan. 25.—In a dense fog a special train on the Plant System having on board about a hundred retail lumber dealers from Indiana who were en route to and from excursion through South Georgia and Florida and a freight train crashed together head-on in the yards here, causing a hand-to-hand collision of 31,000 tons. They will probably be amputated. The injured passengers were held a baby in her arms, suffered severe injuries to one leg. The child was unhurt.

The accident occurred within a few yards of Plant System hospital and the wounded were immediately moved there. A misunderstanding of the order for running the special train was the cause of the accident. The dense fog was the fog that the engineers could see only a few feet.

MINERS DEADLOCKED.

Men and Operators Have So Far Been Unable to Agree Upon a Wage Scale.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 25.—The first meeting of the joint scale committee of the United Mine Workers of America and the Interstate Operators' association resulted in a deadlock and no report will be forthcoming at the joint session. All the members were there from the competitive fields. The first demand of the miners was for a nine mine which the operators declined to entertain.
